

Integic becomes x-tention – integic AG operates under new name as part of the x-tention group

- Zurich-based integic AG has a new official name as of 18 May 2020: x-tention Informationstechnologie AG
- IT service provider expands portfolio for the Swiss market
- x-tention group supports over 900 customers worldwide

Zurich, 18.05.2020 – The Swiss firm integic AG has changed its name and will now operate as x-tention Informationstechnologie AG at its sites in Zurich and Bern. Currently under the direction of Thomas Bähler, the company joined the Austrian complete IT solutions provider x-tention in 2011. The Switzerland-based x-tention Informationstechnologie AG will eventually offer the full range of IT products and services that the Austrian group has steadily built up over its almost 20-year history.

‘As the group’s Swiss branch, we will start offering its full range of services, including consulting, software, implementation and operation, allowing Swiss customers to benefit from x-tention’s extensive portfolio,’ says Thomas Bähler. ‘Our existing integration services will remain the cornerstone of our offering in Switzerland.’

Complete IT solutions for the healthcare sector

Drawing on its many years of experience working in the health and social care sector, the x-tention group offers its customers bespoke solutions and continues to strengthen its position as a leading networking provider in the DACH market. The group comprises x-tention Informationstechnologie GmbH, soffico GmbH, InterComponentWare AG, FAKTOR D consulting GmbH and it for industries GmbH. It has a global workforce of 500 employees across its sites and supports over 900 customers worldwide.
