

x-tention becomes the new majority shareholder of InterComponentWare AG

- xt invest AG becomes the new majority shareholder of InterComponentWare AG (ICW)

Walldorf, Germany, 03.06.2019 – This investment and the subsequent close cooperation between x-tention, soffico, and ICW will make the group the leading eHealth provider in the DACH market. The companies already have multiple customers in common and have shown how fruitful their cooperation can be by recently winning contracts for the Digital Health Network initiative by AOK (German statutory insurance fund).

The powerful modules in ICW's eHealth Suite complement the extensive range of IT services provided by x-tention and the Orchestra integration engine from soffico GmbH (also part of the x-tention group).

'Our close collaboration will allow healthcare service providers, health insurance companies and patients to benefit from our extensive experience and the group companies' joint portfolio of software and services. With our help, our customers and partners will be able to tackle the challenges of digitalizing health and social care systems,' says Herbert Stöger, Executive Board Member of xt invest AG.

Dr Ralf Brandner, Executive Board Member of ICW, is particularly positive about the new prospects for existing customers and partners in the DACH and US markets. He explains, 'The move opens up new opportunities for our existing customers and gives them fresh incentives to take advantage of our varied and expanded range of products and services.'

This investment is part of a clear growth strategy that the x-tention group is pursuing. The Walldorf site and its product development activities are ramping up and expanding.

Image description: Logo InterComponentWare AG, Managing directors ICW AG: Hans Gerwing and Dr. Ralf Brandner

About x-tention

The x-tention group provides individual software and service solutions for healthcare and industry. The international companies draw on a comprehensive portfolio of services that cover consulting, software, implementation, and operations.

The x-tention group includes the companies x-tention Informationstechnologie GmbH, soffico GmbH, InterComponentWare AG, FAKTOR D consulting GmbH, it for industries GmbH and Cloud21 Ltd. The group has over 500 skilled employees at offices in Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Thailand, the UK, and the US who support more than 900 satisfied customers all over the world.

Links

www.x-tention.com/en

Press contact:

Christian Lendle

Senior Communications Manager

Phone: +49 6227 385 427

presse@x-tention.com | x-tention.com

x-tention group

